GYMHAWKS MAKE SIXTH-STRAIGHT NCAA APPEARANCE

The University of Iowa women's gymnastics team was selected to compete in NCAA Regional competition for the sixth-straight year under head coach Larissa Libby. The GymHawks were one of just 36 teams to receive an invitation to regional competition at one of six different sites. Freshman Kyra Trowbridge, Iowa's top scorer on floor and vault, tied for third place on vault, with a career-best 9.900. Iowa scored 194.475 for sixth place, while No. 2 Oklahoma won the meet, totaling 197.375. No. 11 Stanford earned second (196.800) followed by No. 22 Washington (195.925), No. 14 Penn State (195.875) and Southern Utah (194.850).

TROWBRIDGE RISES TO THE OCCASSION

Freshman Kyra Trowbridge contributed on three of the four events in every meet. The Fredericksburg, Va., native was the Hawkeye lead scorer on floor, earning 9.900 on five occasions. While Trowbridge was steady throughout the season, she peaked when it counted. Trowbridge led Iowa on beam (9.675), floor (9.900) and vault (9.825) at the 2013 Big Ten Championships, matching her career best on floor for the fifth time, tying for sixth place. At the 2013 NCAA Regional Championships, Trowbridge led Iowa on floor (9.850) and vault (9.900), tying for third on vault with Oklahoma freshman Maile'ana Kanewa, Stanford senior Nicole Dayton and Stanford freshman Taylor Rice.

SENIOR LEADERSHIP

Emma Stevenson averaged 9.837 on bars and 9.858 on floor, hitting 100 percent of her routines this season. Maya Wickus also hit every routine, averaging 9.755 on vault and 9.773 on bars. Kaitlynn Urano had a stellar season, competing on the bars, beam and floor in every meet before breaking her tibia and fibula. Urano averaged 9.731 on bars, 9.675 on beam and 9.728 on floor. While no senior carried the highest individual average, they proved to be the most reliable, with the highest hit percentage.

ALIE GLOVER, BIG TEN FRESHMAN OF THE WEEK

Freshman Alie Glover earned her first Big Ten Freshman of the Week accolade after capturing the all-around title (39.050) in the tri-meet against Michigan State and Illinois-Chicago. Glover led Iowa to its season-high team performance (195.875) and first-place finish. In addition to the all-around title, the Destin, Fla., native placed in the top seven in three events. Glover tied for third on the bars with a career-best 9.825, placed fifth on the floor (9.800) and seventh on the beam (9.750). Due to her consistency under pressure, Glover competes in the lead-off position on three of the four events (bars, beam and floor). The freshman was Iowa's only athlete to compete in the all-around in every meet this season. The honor marked the first time an Iowa gymnast won Freshman of the Week since Emma Willis (Jan. 9, 2012).

RECORD ATTENDANCE IN CARVER

Iowa won all four of its home meets and recorded its highest-ever average home attendance (1,414) in 2013, with a season-high 2,303 in attendance against Iowa State (3/8). In 2012, the GymHawks drew an average of 940 fans. Before 2013, Iowa's record was an average of 1,307 fans in 2001. Iowa currently ranks 30th-nationally in average home attendance.

GYMNAWS UPSET REGULAR SEASON CHAMPS

Iowa was the only Big Ten team to down Minnesota, the regular season Big Ten Co-Champions, in a dual meet. The Hawkeyes beat the Gophers, 195.725-195.550, in Carver-Hawkeye Arena (2/22). Sophomore Emma Willis won the vault (9.900) and tied with senior Emma Stevenson for the bars title (9.825). Senior Emma Stevenson captured the floor title, tying a career-high 9.900.

CLINCHING THE CY-HAWK SERIES

The University of Iowa women's gymnastics team clinched the Iowa Corn Cy-Hawk Series with a 196.375-194.575 victory over Iowa State (3/8). Iowa performed without senior Kaitlynn Urano, who suffered a leg injury in practice prior to the dual. With a season-high attendance mark (2,303), the GymHawks rallied to remain undefeated at home. The Cy-Hawk showdown, which concluded Iowa's homestand, marked the seniors' last time competing in Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Senior Maya Wickus earned a season-best 9.875 on the vault, tying for second with sophomore teammates Sydney Hoerr and Emma Willis. Senior Emma Stevenson tied for the bars title with Iowa State junior Camille Santerre-Gervais (9.850) and capped off the night anchoring the floor lineup (9.875), tying for second with Hoerr. Iowa grabbed the top-three all-around spots. Hoerr won the all-around title, totaling a career-best 39.400. Willis trailed with 39.275, while freshman Alie Glover finished third (38.975). Iowa State senior Elizabeth Stranahan placed fourth with 38.750.

BIG LIFE, BIG STAGE, BIG TEN

All eight Big Ten schools competed in the NCAA Regional Championships. Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio State and Penn State represented the conference in team competition, while three Michigan State gymnasts competed in individual events. Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota earned berths to the national meet, while Nebraska, Ohio State and Penn State advanced individual gymnasts to the NCAA Championships. At the 2013 NCAA Championships, seven Big Ten gymnasts posted top-10 individual finishes, led by Michigan junior Joanna Sampson's floor title. Minnesota freshman Hanna Nordquist and Michigan senior Katie Zurales tied for second on beam. The Wolverines and Gophers placed fourth in the prelims, while the Illini finished fifth.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Four GymHawks, sophomore Sydney Hoerr, senior Emma Stevenson, senior Kaitlynn Urano and sophomore Emma Willis, were named to the 2013 Big Ten Winter Academic All-Conference team. To be eligible for academic All-Big Ten honors, student-athletes must be letterwinners and in at least their second academic year at the institution. They must also carry a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better. Stevenson and Urano are three-time Academic All-Big Ten selections.

STICKING TOGETHER

Despite three season-ending injuries and an inexperienced squad, the GymHawks shined in their regular season, finishing its homestand undefeated. Much of Iowa's success is credited to an acronym created during the preseason and the team's relentless effort of carrying it out. The acronym is U.N.I.D.D., which stands for unstoppable, noticeable, intensity, discipline and destroy. The greatest display of "U.N.I.D.D." was showcased when Kaitlynn Urano suffered a broken tibia and fibula the day before senior night against Iowa State. Despite the tremendous adversity, Iowa rallied to down the Cyclones, 196.375-194.575, and clinch the Cy-Hawk Series. Without Urano on three events (bars, beam and floor), the GymHawks earned their season-best score, along with individual titles on vault, bars, floor and in the all-around.

THE BASICS

Six gymnasts perform on each of the four events: vault, uneven bars, balance beam, and floor exercise. The five highest scores per event comprise the cumulative team total. Top teams score above 195 out of a perfect score of 200.

Each routine has a start value of 9.5. In order to reach a maximum start value of 10.0, the gymnast must earn bonus points for difficult skills and combinations. The difficulty of skills are ranked from A-E, with "E" being the most difficult. A "D" skill is worth one-tenth of bonus points, while an "E" element is worth two-tenths of bonus. The gymnast also receives bonus for performing a connection of skills, called combination bonus.

JUDGING

Uneven bars, balance beam, and floor exercise are judged with a rating system evaluating each element on the following scale:

- A - basic element
- B - element with partial difficulty
- C - element with higher difficulty
- D - element with very high difficulty
- E - element with highest difficulty

Routines require the following to start from a 9.5 base value:
3 "A" elements, 3 "B" elements, and two "C" elements.

SPECIAL DEDUCTIONS

- * Out of bounds on the floor exercise, -0.1 each time
- * Overtime in balance beam routine (over 90 seconds), -0.2
- * Fall off apparatus, -0.5 each time
- * Wobble on beam, -0.1 to -0.3, depending on degree of wobble
- * An extra step on landing, -0.1
- * Insufficient artistry of presentation, up to -0.3
- * Relaxed posture throughout the exercise, up to -0.2

VAULT

Vaulting requires speed, quickness and explosive power. The gymnast is allowed to perform only one vault, with the exception of NCAA Championship vault final qualifications. Vaults have assigned maximum difficulty ranging from 8.6 to 10.0. Deductions are taken for technical errors in four phases: the approach, contact with the vaulting table, height and distance from the table, and the landing. Specific deductions include up to 0.5 for body position faults, 0.1-0.4 for steps on the landing, and up to 0.3 for an off-center landing. Additionally, if the coach assists the athlete at any time during the vault, the athlete will receive a score of 0.0. Some common vaults in collegiate competition include:

Roundoff back handspring, layout.....	9.80 start value
Roundoff back handspring, layout half twist.....	10.0 start value
Roundoff back handspring, layout full twist.....	10.0 start value
Handspring front tuck.....	9.80 start value
Handspring front tuck half twist.....	9.90 start value
Handspring front tuck full twist.....	10.0 start value
Handspring front pike.....	9.90 start value
Tsukahara layout.....	9.80 start value
Tsukahara layout half twist.....	10.0 start value
Tsukahara layout full twist.....	10.0 start value
Roundoff half twist on, front tuck.....	9.90 start value
Roundoff half twist on, front pike.....	10.0 start value

UNEVEN BARS

This event combines the gymnast's strength and agility as the gymnast must maintain a flowing and consistent rhythm. A bar routine must include a mount, two release moves, a directional change, and a dismount. Bonus points are awarded through release moves, dismounts, and performing difficult elements in a series.

BALANCE BEAM

The balance beam is 16 feet long, four feet high, and only four inches wide. Performing on the beam requires precise movement and intense concentration. A beam routine should be between 70 and 90 seconds long and include a tumbling series, a leap series, a mount and a dismount.

Composition Requirements:

- * Full turn
- * Large leap or jump (180 degree split)
- * Acrobatic series with two or more flight skills
- * Dance series
- * Minimum of a "C" level dismount

FLOOR EXERCISE

This is the "glamour" event in women's gymnastics that combines tumbling, dance, and interpretation of music. Floor routines must contain at least two tumbling passes (one with two flips) and a series of two leaps all choreographed to music. Floor exercise has become not only one of the most beautiful of athletic events, but one of the most daring and exciting as well.

Composition Requirements:

- * Dance series with two elements
- * Two tumbling series with one having at least two saltos
- * Three different saltos within the exercise
- * Minimum of "C" level dismount in combination or "D" level skill

LARISSA LIBBY
HEAD COACH
10TH SEASON

Larissa Libby completed her ninth year as head coach at the University of Iowa in 2013, leading Iowa to its sixth-consecutive NCAA postseason appearance, the seventh in her tenure. The Hawkeyes finished sixth in the Norman Regional, posting 194.475. In the regular season, Iowa clinched the Cy-Hawk Series, defeating Iowa State with a season-best, 196.375-194.575. Iowa was the only Big Ten team to down Minnesota, the regular season Big Ten Co-Champions. The Hawkeyes beat the Gophers, 195.725-195.550.

Under Libby's guidance, Iowa finished its 2013 homestand undefeated. The Hawkeyes recorded their highest-ever average home attendance (1,414), drawing a season-high 2,303 fans against Iowa State. Iowa found success off the floor as well, as four GymHawks, Sydney Hoerr, Emma Stevenson, Kaitlynn Urano and Emma Willis, received Academic All-Big Ten honors.

In 2012, the Hawkeyes finished the season ranked 26th nationally, the highest finish since 2004. Libby coached Tesla Cox to second team All-Big Ten honors and Emma Stevenson to the Big Ten All-Championship Team. The Hawkeyes hosted the Big Ten Championships drawing a season-high attendance figure of 1,661. Stevenson scored a 9.875 on the floor exercise, and Iowa finished seventh as a team. Libby led the Hawkeyes to a fifth-consecutive NCAA postseason appearance. Iowa posted 194.600 and finished fifth at the Seattle Regional.

The Hawkeyes raised the streak to four-straight NCAA appearances in 2011 with a fifth place finish at the Corvallis Regional. This coming after a sixth place finish at the Big Ten Championships, and an overall season record of 11-6. Libby coached three All-Big Ten selections in Rebecca Simbhudas, Houry Gebeshian and Jessa Hansen. Simbhudas and Gebeshian also made individual appearances at the NCAA Championships as Simbhudas was named North Central Region Gymnast of the Year.

Libby led Iowa to a third place finish at the 2010 Big Ten Championships, its best finish in six years. On top of another NCAA Regional berth, Libby also coached Houry Gebeshian to a Big Ten title on beam, just the second in program history. Gebeshian, Jessa Hansen and Rebecca Simbhudas were selected to the All-Big Ten team. Additionally, Simbhudas qualified as an individual for the NCAA Championships and earned All-American honors on beam.

In 2009, Libby led her squad to a 10-5 record and was named North Central Region Coach of the Year. Under her guidance, the GymHawks made their second-consecutive NCAA Regional appearance and produced two first team All-Big Ten gymnasts in Jenifer Simbhudas and Houry Gebeshian. Additionally, Simbhudas was named Big Ten Gymnast of the Week twice in 2009.

In 2008, Libby coached the Hawkeyes to their first NCAA appearance since 2005 and a fifth place finish in the Big Ten Conference. In addition to the multiple team and staff honors, Libby also saw several GymHawks achieve standout seasons during the 2008 season. Jenifer Simbhudas was named first team All Big-Ten and Big Ten Gymnast of the Week twice. The accomplishments came off of the competitive floor as well. Five GymHawks were named Academic All-Big Ten and seven were named academic All-Americans.

In 2007, Libby led the Hawkeyes to a number of individual records. Katie Burke earned career-highs on vault, bars, floor, and in the all-around, ending a highly successful season with an NCAA Championship appearance. Kara Pinjuv, Jenifer Simbhudas, and Katie Turcotte all qualified to NCAA Regional competition. In addition to their NCAA success, Burke earned first team All-Big Ten honors, while Pinjuv, Turcotte, and Simbhudas all earned second team honors.

Prior to the 2007 season, Libby played a role in the Hawkeyes' six consecutive seasons of NCAA Regional competition (2000-2005) and coached seniors Liz Grajewski and Kortny Williamson, as well as junior Danielle Legeai to individual regional competition in 2006.

As the Hawkeyes' choreographer and beam coach, Libby has made a lasting impact. The top 10 school records on beam have all been under her guidance, including the school record, 49.425, accomplished in 2004 at Illinois State. In 2004, the GymHawks recorded a 49.0 or higher seven times on beam.

Before becoming head coach, Libby served as associate head coach for one season and assistant coach for the previous three seasons.

Before joining the Hawkeyes, Libby served four years as the assistant women's coach at Louisiana State University, her alma mater. While at LSU, she produced nine beam All-Americans, the top-ranked beam team in 1999 and helped coach LSU to four consecutive NCAA championship team appearances.

As a competitive gymnast in her home country of Canada, Libby burst onto the scene at age 11, quickly becoming a junior national champion and a senior national champion shortly after. A member of the 1987 and 1989 Canadian world championship teams, Libby led the Canadian team to its best-ever sixth-place finish, placing 18th in the world in the all-around and becoming Canada's first ever world vault finalist. Along with world recognition, Libby was also a member of the Canadian Olympic team in 1988. She has earned over 30 international individual and event medals and was honored as the Canadian Gymnast of the Year in 1989 and 1990. In 2006, Libby was honored for her many national and international accomplishments. The Whitby Sports Council, the hometown where Libby began her outstanding career, selected Libby to be inducted into the Whitby Sports Hall of Fame, an honor bestowed on some of Canada's greatest athletes.

Originally from Pickering, Canada, Libby was a collegiate gymnast at Louisiana State University. She was a four-year team captain and the Central Region bar champion in 1995. Libby graduated from LSU in 1996, with a Bachelor of Science degree in psychology and a minor in French. Her husband, Chad, is the program director of athletic training at Coe College. The couple has two daughters, Taylor and Bailey.

JACOB LEE
ASSISTANT COACH
SECOND SEASON

Jacob Lee completed his first year as an assistant coach at the University of Iowa in 2013. He helped coach Iowa to its sixth-straight NCAA postseason appearance during his first season. Lee, responsible for coaching floor and vault, led the floor team to a 49.140 NCAA Regional Qualifying Score, ranking 21st nationally. The vault squad registered a 49.020 Regional Qualifying Score.

Under Lee's guidance, freshman Kyra Trowbridge finished sixth on floor at the 2013 Big Ten Championships, tying a personal-best 9.900. Additionally, sophomore Emma Willis earned a career-best 9.925 on the vault in the victory against Iowa State, winning the event title.

Prior to joining the staff at Iowa, Lee spent four years as the education coordinator and team coach for TAGS Gymnastics in Eden Prairie, Minnesota.

Lee graduated from the University of Minnesota in 2007 with a degree in applied economics. Lee was a three-time All-American (twice for all-around and once for parallel bars), Big Ten Freshman Gymnast of the Year, Nissen-Emery Award Finalist and was twice named to the All-Big Ten First Team.

"Jake is very passionate about gymnastics," said UI head coach Larissa Libby. "He has an incredible pedigree behind him. His dad was a U.S. national team coach, and Jacob was an outstanding gymnast himself. His drive to succeed at the highest level, combined with his club connections and overall knowledge of the sport, will provide an immediate impact on the program. We are very excited to have Jake join the Hawkeye family and look forward to working with him in the years to come."

Both of Lee's parents were gymnasts at Ohio State and coached Missy Marlow to the 1988 Olympic Games. They currently operate their own club, USA Gymnastics World, in Bountiful, Utah.

"I was a college gymnast myself," said Lee. "I love the atmosphere. I love working with the athletes, and I'm here to make a difference."

SYDNEY HOERR
JUNIOR

GETTING TO KNOW SYDNEY

My first gymnastics memory: Competing for the first time. I remember getting all green ribbons and thinking that I did really well, but the green ribbons were the worst you could get!

Most prized possession: My family. They are everything to me!

Favorite place in Iowa City: The Pentacrest. It is the place where I fell in love with the University of Iowa campus.

Favorite movie: Avengers

Favorite music: Christian music

Favorite professional athlete: Shannon Miller

Most memorable gymnastics moment: Competing in Carver-Hawkeye Arena for the first time. The most phenomenal feeling was walking out onto the floor with the lights, music, audience and my team by my side.

Favorite thing about team road trips: Singing, dancing, and being crazy! There's nothing better than to be in a tiny area with your team. Nothing says team bonding quite like that.

I want to visit: Ireland, because I hear that it is beautiful.

Goals for the 2013 season: To be confident, trust myself and to have no regrets! I want to give both my education and my gymnastics one hundred percent.

2013... Academic All-Big Ten honoree... competed in the all-around in 10 meets... marked a career-high 9.875 on vault and floor in win against Iowa State, placing second in both events... won the bars title at Southern Utah with a career-best and team season-high 9.925... scored a career-high 9.825 on beam against Iowa State for second place... won the all-around against Iowa State with a career-best and team season-high 39.400.

GETTING TO KNOW CAITLIN

My first gymnastics memory: I fell four times in one beam routine at my first meet. I didn't realize how terrible that was, so when I landed I smiled and ran over to my team like I received a perfect score!

Favorite place in Iowa City: The downtown area, because there are so many cute shops and activities going on at all time.

Favorite food: Definitely sushi. Any kind, anywhere

Favorite movie: Taken

Favorite music: I love country music!

I want to visit: I really want to go to Australia, and maybe even travel the world for a year after college.

Goals for 2013: To make a comeback! I want to compete for Iowa and help my team in any way I can.

Why the University of Iowa: Iowa was the total package for me – great coaches, incredible teammates, a prestigious medical field and it's part of the Big Ten Conference.

If I could guest star on any television series: Grey's Anatomy because it's my favorite show, what I want to do for a living, and I would like to meet all of the cast members.

Most memorable gymnastics moment: Winning level 7 state meet after being out for eight months due to a dislocated elbow.

One word that describes me: Determined

"I chose Iowa because it felt like home the first time I visited. The atmosphere and spirit of this school is amazing and the people are so welcoming."

ALIE GLOVER -- SOPHOMORE

"I chose Iowa because it has a good balance of academics and athletics. It also has a very tight-knit atmosphere that makes it feel comfortable and homey."

EMMA WILLIS -- JUNIOR

"I chose Iowa because it gave me the opportunity to do what I love, which is gymnastics while studying to get my degree. Plus the program is awesome!"

JOHANNY SOTILLO -- JUNIOR

"I chose Iowa because it feels like home. The people here are so humble and will go out of their way to make you feel welcome. The coaching staff, team, campus, and education are all fabulous."

SYDNEY HOERR -- JUNIOR

"The Hawkeye pride throughout Iowa City is never-ending and creates an uplifting vibe at any given time. Being able to get an incredible education, be a part of a Division I team that has become my second family, and be a Hawkeye is more than I ever could have asked for. I wouldn't trade it for the world."

CAITLIN TANZER -- JUNIOR

The University of Iowa women's gymnastics team takes great pride in being able to give back to the Iowa City community and participate in various community service activities. In conjunction with several activities, the team selects one major cause to be involved with. For the fourth consecutive year, the GymHawks put their efforts behind the Ponseti races, with the proceeds going to clubfoot research. The team also helped build a haunted house for local youth. The GymHawks are always one of the first to jump at an opportunity to help others.

Iowa City is a media saturated environment. With no professional teams in the area, the Hawkeyes garner extensive coverage from newspapers, television and the Internet.

TWITTER

A member of the Iowa gymnastics staff offers interactive content live from every event throughout the season via the official Iowa Gymnastics Twitter account, @IowaGymnastics. This feature provides diehard Hawkeye fans up-to-the-minute play-by-play, notes and stats about the meet and GymHawks. The Twitter feed begins approximately 15 minutes before each competition and runs throughout the meet.

TELEVISION

With the launch of the Big Ten Network, the Big Ten is the only conference in the country that has its own national network devoted to Big Ten programming. In addition to the Big Ten Network, the Hawkeyes have had meets on CSTV and Mediacom the past couple seasons.

HAWKEYESPORTS.COM

Media and fans can also obtain a wealth of up-to-date information about the Hawkeyes on the official web site of the University of Iowa -- hawkeyesports.com. Live stats (gametracker), box scores, play-by-play, photo galleries, coach and bio information, video, podcasts and more can be found on the web site. The gymnastics team also has its own Facebook and Twitter site.

Furthermore, hawkeyesports.com has a fresh look after the site was re-designed and re-launched in October 2010. The new and improved site has enhanced graphics, is easier to navigate, and has more content and video/audio for the diehard Hawkeye fan.

NEWSPAPER COVERAGE

Fans can also read about Hawkeye action in several newspapers/ web sites throughout the state of Iowa. A few of the papers that cover the Hawkeyes on a regular basis include: The Des Moines Register, the Iowa City Press-Citizen, the Cedar Rapids Gazette, the Quad City Times, the Daily Iowan, the Voice of The Hawkeyes, the Burlington Hawkeye, the Waterloo Courier, and the Moline Dispatch.

Last season, the Gymhawks appeared on the Big Ten Network on two occasions. Big Ten gymnastics can be seen worldwide in high-definition (HD) on BTN and on BTN.com.

In June 2006, the Big Ten announced the creation of the Big Ten Network, a national network devoted to Big Ten athletic and academic programs. Available to all cable and satellite providers nationwide, with most programs offered in stunning high-definition television (HDTV), the network allows fans to see their home teams, regardless of where they live.

The Network currently has agreements with more than 250 affiliates, including AT&T U-Verse, Charter, Comcast, Cox (Cleveland), DirecTV, DISH Network, Insight, Mediacom, Time Warner Cable and Verizon FiOS. Available to approximately 70 million households nationwide, the Big Ten Network is the first nationally distributed network dedicated to covering one of the premier collegiate conferences in the country. With approximately 350 live events, and nearly all of them in high definition, the network is the ultimate destination for Big Ten fans and alumni across the country, allowing them to see their favorite teams, regardless of where they live.

The network operates 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, showcasing a wide array of classic-to-current sports and televising more Olympic sporting events and women's sports than has ever been aired on any other network.

GARY BARTA
ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

Now in his eighth year as director of athletics at the University of Iowa, Gary Barta continues to provide the UI's more than 600 student-athletes, in addition to more than 225 coaches, administrators and support staff, the strong leadership and strategic vision that is the foundation for the Hawkeyes' success both today and in the future.

Barta often notes, "Hope is not a strategy," and evidence of his commitment to planning and execution is his second strategic plan for the UI Athletics Department. The latest "road map" addresses the next five years for the Hawkeyes and is built on the same core tenets contained in the first: Win. Graduate. Do it right.

The Hawkeyes are coming off a 2012-13 athletics year that saw eight programs participate in national championship competition, a record-setting year in terms of graduation rates — 77 percent, and steady progress in terms of facility improvements, highlighted by the opening of the new indoor practice facility for the UI's football program and the Hoak Family Golf Complex at Finkbine Golf Course, home of the Hawkeyes' men's and women's golf programs.

Under Barta's direction, the UI will continue to put into place the infrastructure that will provide the foundation for competitive success. The 2012-13 basketball season provides an outstanding example of the impact state-of-the-art facilities can have on a program. Boosted by a new practice facility and an enhanced strength and conditioning facility — two pieces of Barta's first strategic plan for the UI — Fran McCaffery's Iowa men's basketball team won 25 games and advanced to the championship game of the 2013 National Invitation Tournament. Lisa Bluder's Iowa women's basketball team earned its sixth consecutive invitation to the NCAA Tournament.

Another example of investments made under Barta's direction that have helped Iowa turn the corner competitively is the UI men's golf program. Barta increased his commitment to the sport when he hired native Iowan Mark Hankins, who had a vision for the program that included a new practice facility. Barta, Hankins and the Hawkeyes celebrated the opening of the new $6 million Hoak Family Golf Complex in February, just three months before Hankins' nationally ranked squad made its fifth straight appearance in the national regional championships.

Women's basketball and men's golf are two of the eight UI programs that participated in national championship competition in 2012-13. At the top of the list was Tom Brands' wrestling program, which crowned one national champion, had four wrestlers earn All-America honors, and finished fourth nationally at the end of a season that included a Big Ten Conference Dual Meet championship.

JD Reive's men's gymnastics team had three individuals earn All-America honors after finishing fifth at the national meet. Larissa Libby's women's gymnastics program advanced to NCAA regional competition for the sixth straight season.

The Iowa field hockey program under the direction of Tracy Greisbaum advanced to its sixth NCAA Tournament over the last nine years and 22nd in school history — a total that ranks No. 1 among the Hawkeyes' Big Ten Conference peers. Two Hawkeyes were named All-Americans.

Iowa's 200 and 400 medley relay teams and backstroker Grant Betulius earned All-America honors while leading Marc Long's men's swimming and diving team to a 32nd place at the national championship. Larry Wiecek's UI track and field program crowned eight All-Americans en route to placing 35th at the national outdoor championship.

Interest in the Hawkeyes continues to soar. Sellouts for home games of the football team at historic Kinnick Stadium and a waiting list for access to the premium seating areas inside the Paul W. Brechler Press Box are the norm. So, too, is Iowa leading the country in attendance at home wrestling events — Iowa averaged just under 9,000 fans per home dual match in 2012-13 — and being ranked among the nation's Top 20 in attendance in women's basketball.

Success on the court has also resulted in spinning turnstiles for home games of the UI men's basketball team. The Hawkeyes' run to New York City's Madison Square Garden and the NIT championship game included a pair of sold out games on Mediacom Court in 15,400-seat Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Those two sellouts, paired with three regular season sellouts, helped to push Iowa's total average per game to 13,625, an improvement of more than 1,700 per game that has pushed the Hawkeyes into the nation's Top 25 in per game attendance.

Under Barta's leadership, Iowa has also embraced new technologies and that, too, has paid dividends: Iowa ranks among the nation's Top 10 in Facebook "friends" and Twitter "followers." The UI also delivers Hawk Talk Daily, a daily e-newsletter, and Hawk Talk Monthly, a monthly e-magazine, to more than 70,000 friends of the UI and fans of the Hawkeyes to complement the news, information, video and photography available on hawkeyesports.com, the official 2012. Phase I includes the new indoor practice facility for Coach Kirk Ferentz' program that has competed on 10 bowl games over the past 11 seasons. Phase II includes construction of the new Iowa Football Operations Center, which will include new team locker rooms, team meeting rooms, athletic medical training space, video operations, and coaches offices and meeting rooms. Funded entirely through private support and revenue generated by the UI Athletics Department, the project is an important next phase of the master facilities plan for Hawkeye football. It will be constructed adjacent to the Ron and Margaret Kenyon Outdoor Practice Facility, immediately west of Kinnick Stadium and will be connected to the new indoor practice facility.

The 2010-11 season marked the first for the men's and women's swimming and diving teams in the UI's $69 million Campus Recreation and Wellness Center. The Hawkeyes hosted the 2012 Big Ten Championships and the UI men's squad responded by earning its highest Big Ten finish in 15 seasons.

Another of the latest additions to the facilities available to the UI's student-athletes is the Varsity Golf Complex practice facility for the men's and women's golf programs. Located at the southern edge of the UI's award-winning Finkbine Golf Course, the facility is expected to be completed for use this winter. It will provide the Hawkeyes a state-of-the-art facility that offers the opportunity for year-round training and practice.

Barta's involvement in the UI campus community extends beyond intercollegiate athletics. He is a member of the President's Cabinet, comprised of vice presidents and other campus leaders, that provide counsel to UI President Sally Mason. That group was instrumental in the UI's response to record-setting flooding that besieged the campus and the Iowa City and Coralville community in June 2008.

Barta also represents the UI and the Hawkeyes at the conference and national level. During his first six years at the UI, he has participated in the creation and implementation of the Big Ten Network, the expansion of the Big Ten Conference and realignment of athletics conferences nationally, and the Big Ten's postseason bowl game agreements that were successfully implemented in 2010.

Nationally, Barta remains active in the Division IA Athletics Directors Association, the National Association of College Directors of Athletics, and currently serves on the NCAA Football Committee Board of Directors.

Barta often suggests to his staff that "Hope is not a strategy," which is why he is currently overseeing a comprehensive review of the strategic plan for the UI Athletics Department and has worked with the UI's leadership on a long-term financial plan.

Another favorite saying of his is, "Vision without resources is irrelevant." Over the course of his career he has been directly involved in raising hundreds of millions of dollars in support of intercollegiate athletics. This has remained a primary focus during his tenure at Iowa, where private support for the Hawkeyes continues to flourish despite a challenging economy.

Under Barta's leadership -- and thanks to a talented athletics development staff -- the UI has seen year-over-year improvement in annual giving in spite of the difficult economic environment. In addition, under Barta's direction, the UI generated more than $20 million of philanthropic and corporate sponsorship support for the revitalization of Carver-Hawkeye Arena and has already surpassed that level of support for the current football projects.

The UI also generated the $2 million in private support necessary to fully fund the Hawkeyes' new practice facility for its men's and women's golf programs. As the director of athletics at the University of Wyoming for three years, seven different UW coaches were named Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year. He also spearheaded a fund-raising effort that netted the Cowboy athletics program $11 million in private support and $11 million in matching state fund.

As the senior associate athletics director at the University of Washington, he directed the "Campaign for the Student-Athlete," was a participant in the design, construction and/or renovation of several UW athletics facilities, including Bank of America Arena and the Dempsey Indoor Practice Facility. In addition to almost doubling the amount of annual private support received by UW, Barta also managed the department's external relations division, a task that included corporate sponsorship and radio contracts.

His responsibilities at Washington expanded over time to include hiring of coaching and administrative staff, and the day-to-day oversight of several Huskie sport teams. The roots of his development experience extend to his first two positions: director of athletics development and external relations at the University of Northern Iowa and director of development at his alma mater, North Dakota State University.

Barta earned a Bachelor of Science degree in mass communication and broadcast journalism from NDSU in 1987. He was an option quarterback for Bison football squads that won the Division II NCAA National Championship in 1983, 1985 and 1986.

Barta, and his wife, Connie, have a son, Luke (14) and a daughter, Madison (12). He was born Sept. 4, 1963, in Minneapolis.

IOWA CONTINUES TO BUILD FOR SUCCESS

The UI Department of Athletics is under the direction of Gary Barta and is regarded as one of the top intercollegiate programs in the nation. Once again, the Hawkeyes enjoyed success both athletically and academically in 2012-13.

Academically, the UI's federal graduation rate of 77 percent (for student-athletes who enrolled in the fall of 2005) is the best mark in school history. That mark was six points better than the UI student body and 12 points better than achieved by student-athletes nationally. For the fourth consecutive year, all 24 of Iowa's teams exceeded the Academic Progress Rate (APR) benchmark and the program posted a record 87 percent in the NCAA's "Graduation Success Rate." It is the seventh time in eight years of the GSR's existence that Iowa's student-athletes scored 80 percent or better.

Athletically, Hawkeye teams enjoyed another outstanding year in 2012-13, as a significant number of Iowa's 24 programs reached postseason play. The Iowa men's basketball team advanced to the championship game of the National Invitation Tournament, the women's basketball team competed in the NCAA Tournament for the sixth straight season and the wrestling team finished fourth at the NCAA Championships.

In February, 2013, the UI dedicated the 4,200-square foot James M. Hoak Family Golf Complex, a state-of-the-art golf facility featuring indoor putting and chipping green and two indoor-to-outdoor heated practice bays. It came on the heels of the completion of a $47 million revitalization of Carver-Hawkeye Arena in the summer of 2011. That project included the construction of a practice facility for men's and women's basketball and volleyball, a 10,000-square-foot strength training and cardiovascular center, and an expansion to the Dan Gable Wrestling Complex, in addition to new locker room and support facilities for men's and women's basketball, wrestling and volleyball programs, and office space for the majority of Iowa administrative and coaching staffs.

Phase I of a two-phase project for the UI football program was completed in August, 2012. Phase I included a new indoor practice facility for head coach Kirk Ferentz' football program that has competed in 10 bowl games over the past 12 seasons. Phase II includes construction of the new Iowa Football Operations Center, which will include new team locker rooms, team meeting rooms, athletic medical training space, video operations, and coaches offices and meeting rooms. Funded entirely through private support and revenue generated by the UI Athletics Department, the project is an important next phase of the master facilities plan for Hawkeye football.

IOWA WRESTLING

The Hawkeye wrestling team — the national attendance leader in each of the last seven seasons — continued its dominance on the mat, finishing fourth at the NCAA Championships. Four Hawkeyes earned All-America accolades in 2013, including 157-pound national champion Derek St. John. Iowa has claimed 23 national championships since 1975 and 34 Big Ten titles in its history.

IOWA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

UI head coach Lisa Bluder guided the Hawkeye women's basketball team to its sixth-straight NCAA Tournament in a year when the Hawkeyes hosted first and second round contests inside Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Iowa moved on to the Round of 32 following an opening-round victory Miami (Fla.) and finished 21-13 overall. The Hawkeyes are the only Big Ten team to appear in six consecutive NCAA tournaments and one of 13 schools nationally.

IOWA MEN'S TRACK AND FIELD

The men's track and field team placed 35th at the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships and earned All-America recognition in nine events. Senior Justin Austin swept the Big Ten Athlete of the Championships and Big Ten Athlete of the Year honors for the second time in his career.

IOWA MEN'S GOLF

Head coach Mark Hankins led the Hawkeyes to their fifth-straight NCAA Regional appearance in 2013 and two student-athletes garnered all-region honors. Senior Steven Ihm made a splash in the summer, winning the Sunnehanna Amateur and competing on the PGA Tour in the 2013 John Deere Classic.

IOWA MEN'S BASKETBALL

Third-year head coach Fran McCaffery led the Hawkeyes to 25 wins — matching the second-highest win total in school history — and to the championship game of the National Invitation Tournament. The team's success saw increased attendance, as Iowa had six sellouts at Carver-Hawkeye Arena, which led to a No. 21 national home attendance ranking.

IOWA MEN'S GYMNASTICS

The Hawkeye men's gymnastics team completed its most successful season in nearly a decade in 2013. Iowa finished fifth nationally at the NCAA Championships, marking the program's best finish since 2000. The Hawkeyes had three individuals earn All-America recognition, including Javier Balboa, who was the first all-around Iowa honoree since 2005.

IOWA FIELD HOCKEY

The Hawkeyes advanced to their second-straight and 22nd all-time NCAA Tournament in 2012. Iowa had two student-athletes garner All-America recognition, the 82nd and 83rd honorees in program history.

DID YOU KNOW...

45 percent of UI students are from out of state

Ten University of Iowa graduate programs and colleges ranked among the 10 best in the nation. — U.S. News & World Report's America's Best Graduate Schools, 2013

With over 30,000 students in a city of roughly 75,000, UI offers a different atmosphere than many other universities in the Big Ten or the Midwest.

The unemployment rate in Iowa City (4 %) ranks among the nation's lowest. (May, 2012).

Building on a rich tradition of excellence and innovation, the University of Iowa is educating more than 30,000 students annually, preparing them for success immediately following graduation, as well as continued achievements throughout their lives.

The University of Iowa offers more than 100 areas of undergraduate and graduate study, including seven professional degree programs, through its 11 colleges: the colleges of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Business, Dentistry, Education, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy and Public Health, and the Graduate College. The University also provides on-campus and distance learning opportunities through its division of Continuing Education.

Long recognized as one of the nation's leading centers for the arts, creative writing, space physics, hydraulics, basic health and science research, and communication studies, the University of Iowa is also developing new strengths in informatics, nanoscience, simulation technology, and other fields.

The University of Iowa has maintained its tradition as an innovator with its pioneering work in speech pathology, science and medicine. It's also known internationally for being home of one of the nation's largest public university owned hospitals.

CULTURAL DIVERSITY AT THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

The University of Iowa has worked hard to assure that students of all races, creeds, and backgrounds are represented in the student body. In the past five years, Iowa has moved aggressively towards its goal of creating communities of African American, Hispanic/Latino (a), Asian American, and Native American students, and making the University a stimulating, welcoming place.

The Center for Diversity and Enrichment is a coordinated university-wide resource for creating and maintaining this campus diversity and providing opportunities for all University students interested in other cultures. Scholarships, fellowships, and support programs help to make this possible. International Programs brings together scholars from around the world and UI students looking to expand their perspectives by studying abroad or exploring global issues on campus. International students at the University of Iowa represent more than 100 countries.

CONSIDER THE COMMUNITY

Some universities offer the large city atmosphere. Others offer the college town experience. The University of Iowa is uniquely situated to offer student athletes the very best of both of these different worlds.

Once the state capital, Iowa City is considered one of the truly great college towns in America. The city swells with excitement on game day when nearly 16,000 Hawkeye fans from across the state and Midwest converge on Carver-Hawkeye Arena to cheer the Hawkeyes to another victory.

Iowa City's downtown area is alive and thriving. Restaurants, shops and sidewalk cafes face onto pedestrian malls full of people watchers, street entertainers and food vendors.

Attractive in size and friendliness, Iowa City is big in the sense that it offers all the advantages and conveniences of much larger metropolitan areas like summer and permanent employment opportunities, live entertainment and concerts, fine dining and shopping, industry and commerce.

Iowa City is located in the heart of eastern Iowa, within easy driving distance of several major Midwestern cities including the state capital, Des Moines, as well as Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, Kansas City, Minneapolis and Milwaukee.

"Iowa City is unlike any other place in the state, both because of its regional beauty and because of its independent, serendipitous spirit."

"There's nothing like feeling the crisp air as one tours the Big Ten campus, just as there's no other feeling like walking the shores along Lake MacBride, north of town. This is an ideal location for a weekend trip filled with sights, sounds, shopping and plenty of activities on any given weekend."

A CAMPUS ON THE MOVE

The University of Iowa campus caters to pedestrians and bicyclists; it's compact enough to cross in a 20-minute walk. A free ride on a campus bus can cut that time in half. Entertainment on campus and in Iowa City is geared toward student budgets, with many events offered at no charge. The University of Iowa offers more than 400 student organizations, extensive recreation facilities, 50 fraternities and sororities, and a broad schedule of arts performances, lectures, cultural celebrations and club sports and intramural athletic contests to go along with the intercollegiate competition within the Big Ten Conference.

STUDENT-ORIENTED NIGHT LIFE

Iowa's campus is set right in the city's downtown area, where you'll find dance clubs, movies, coffeehouses, and restaurants to suit every taste. Live music can be found any night of the week in clubs and restaurants, even outside on warm evenings on the downtown pedestrian mall. Iowa City businesses are convenient and geared toward student tastes and needs.

CONSIDER THE OPPORTUNITY FOR A QUALITY EDUCATION

A quality education is one of the highest priorities at the University of Iowa. Just over 90 percent of Johnson County residents have graduated from high school, and in Iowa City nearly half of all residents have earned bachelor's degrees. In fact, census statistics indicate Johnson County is the 10th "smartest" county in the nation, based on percentage of residents holding bachelor's degrees.

The University of Iowa represents a strong presence in the community while enhancing the quality of life in Iowa City.

Your aspiration may be a career in medicine, law or education. Regardless of the specific career field, it's important to identify the gymnastics program that places a high priority on academics and allows you to take full advantage of the tremendous educational opportunities available.

At the University of Iowa, student-athletes learn quickly that academic success is the highest priority.

ATHLETICS AND ACADEMICS

At The University of Iowa, a strong relationship has been developed between athletics and academics, where coaches and athletes work hand-in-hand with academic deans and professors, assuring the student-athlete the best possible opportunities to excel in the classroom and in athletics.

From the first visit for any prospective student-athlete, to the completion of their academic and athletic career at Iowa, academic personnel play a large role in the career of Hawkeye student-athletes. Beginning with the on-campus visits, student-athletes are introduced to professors in their selected field of study, and are able to establish a relationship and develop an understanding of the academic setting in which they will be involved.

THE RUSSELL AND ANN GERDIN ATHLETIC LEARNING CENTER

The University of Iowa Russell and Ann Gerdin Athletic Learning Center opened in the fall of 2003. The Learning Center is a multi-level, 20,000-square foot facility, which provides one all-purpose area for the academic pursuits for Iowa's male and female student-athletes. The facility is centrally located on the UI campus for easy access by all student-athletes and staff.

The Learning Center features an auditorium, two classrooms, study lounges for freshmen and upper-class student-athletes, a computer lab, a teaching lab, the athletic library, office space for Iowa's Academic Student Services staff and a display area to recognize the academic accomplishments of Iowa's student-athletes.

When a student-athlete considers her future, she should consider prospects beyond gymnastics. She should consider where she wants to be five, ten, fifteen years from today, and the best course of action for getting there. Also, she should decide early on to commit to excellence in every challenge undertaken.

Without a doubt, the men and women listed here took time to consider their future and the ways to get there. These former University of Iowa undergraduates have gone on to become leaders in their chosen fields.

THE HAWKEYE NICKNAME

The University of Iowa borrowed its athletic nickname from the state of Iowa many years ago. The name Hawkeye was originally the name of the hero in the fictional novel, The Last of the Mohicans, written by James Fenimore Cooper. Cooper had the Delaware Indians bestow the name on a white scout who lived with them.

In 1838, 12 years after the book was published, people in the territory of Iowa acquired the nickname, chiefly through the efforts of Judge David Rorer of Burlington and James Edwards of Fort Madison.

Edwards, editor of the Fort Madison Patriot, moved his paper to Burlington in 1843 and renamed it the Burlington Hawkeye. The two men continued their campaign to popularize the name, and territorial officials eventually gave it their formal approval.

HERKY THE HAWKEYE

The Hawkeye nickname gained a tangible symbol in 1948 when a cartoon character, later to be named Herky the Hawkeye was hatched. The creator was Richard Spencer III, instructor of journalism at Iowa.

The impish Hawk was an immediate hit and acquired a name through a statewide contest staged by the athletic department. John Franklin, a Belle Plaine alumnus, was the man who suggested Herky.

Since his birth more than 45 years ago, Herky has symbolized Iowa athletics and epitomized University life. He even donned a military uniform during the Korean War and became the insignia of the 124th Fighter Squadron.

During the mid-1950s, Herky came to life at a football game as the Iowa mascot. Since that time, Herky has been a familiar figure at Iowa athletics events.
